Introduction

Since 2017, a Canadian Quebec-based company works with Mobilunity on Dedicated Development Team model. Having their remote development team expanding and shrinking to the sizes of 5-6 team members, the client was capable of building their very own product with a very defined demand on the market. A product solving FinTech's industry needs has already gained its popularity, and shifted into fast growth stage with ambitious plans to double their team in the close future.

Challenge

Framing the newly built product into a new organization with all key roles covered was a primary challenge for our Client. With CEO being Canadian-based, it was critically important to identify and agree on who will be leading technology side of the product in such a competitive and hi-tech industry as FinTech is.

Solution

3+ years of fruitful collaboration between the Client and their first and key software engineer provided by Mobilunity was a serious reason to consider suggesting a role of new company's CTO to Anton, who was not only a part of the team from the very start of the product's development, but also a key decision maker on technological matters related to the product.

Since 2021 start, Anton's realm is described as:

Define and supervise product's architecture, product's scalability and productivity.

Lead and personally supervise team extension process.

Ensure that the technology aspect of the product meets its current and future needs.

As a company CTO, Anton has participated in a recruitment video session explaining to all potential candidates, who are applying for FinExpert vacancies, advantages of collaboration with FinExpert.

Building Lasting Relationships

FinExpert values effective results and our Kyiv CTO put on the table all his expertise to help the Client's product succeed. Due to the fruitful collaboration with Anton and his valuable contribution, FinExpert management team offered Ukrainian CTO having equity in a company in the form of a fixed percent from recurring revenues. This fact only proves the intent for lasting cooperation with Anton as a CTO and the whole Ukrainian remote team, which keeps extending.

Our CTO is located in Kyiv. He is doing such an amazing job, he is such a nice guy and we are looking for people to team up with him in order to scale our solution and become the leader of the industry.
